The Awards function was followed by The Fellows' Dinner.

5th IPA Convention, 2013
Theme: Indian Pharma Industry: Strategies for Excellence; April 8th – 10th 2013, Goa

The scene for the IPA Convention was at Kala Academy, Panaji, Goa (8 – 10th April), the land of scenic beauty, rich heritage, and fun! And in this backdrop, the Convention turned out to be a roaring success, with a wonderful venue, exquisite cuisine, arrangements and hospitality – obviously backed by a hard working and efficient local organizing committee lead by Mr. Salim Veljee, President, IPA Goa state branch. The Convention, with a global focus on regulations and technical advancements in the world of pharmaceuticals brought together delegates from across various domains, while also serving as a platform for deliberations and discussions. Considering the fact that Goa is fast emerging as a potential hub for the pharmaceutical industry, this was a major development in an era of dynamic changes in the pharmaceutical world of manufacturing.

The Convention, with the theme ‘Indian Pharma Industry: Strategies for Excellence’, the IPA Convention 2013 was inaugurated on 8th of April at the Kala Academy, Panaji by the Minister of Health, Goa State Government Mr. Laxmikant Parsekar. The Health Minister in his inaugural address said that the pharmaceutical sector in Goa has the potential to grow to Rs. 10,000 crore in export revenue within the next few years. He also assured the industry that his government would concentrate on creating an environment conducive to growth of the sector in the state and welcomed more and more industries to set their base in Goa. Mr. Salim A Veljee, Chairman of the Local Organizing Committee welcomed the august gathering of pharma professionals, industrialists and academicians. He stated that it has been almost after 22 years that the state has hosted a large pharmaceutical event. In the current state of affairs, as the state’s mining industry has received a setback, the government will surely want to explore new avenues to attract investment in the state. The pharmaceutical sector is an ideal solution since it is non-polluting and Goa has already been a hub of pharmaceutical manufacturing activity for several years.

The keynote address of the inaugural function was delivered by Mr. Gerald Heddel, Director, Inspections, Enforcement and Standards Division, MHRA, who mentioned that the Indian pharmaceutical industry is already a leader when it comes to generics business. He also stressed that as an industry, we must invest in building efficiency through automation.

The Souvenir for the Convention was released by Shri. Bhishma N. Thakore, senior most Past President of IPA. Dr. J A S Giri, President of IPA also spoke on the occasion, and congratulated IPA Goa State Branch and the local organizing committee for setting high standards in organizing the landmark Convention, stating it as the best one so far.

The Convention was attended by close to 600 participants from across the country consisting of professionals, technocrats and regulatory personnel from the pharma industry, and academicians.

The scientific sessions consisted of two parallel tracks/sessions one on Manufacturing, Quality and Regulatory, and the other on Innovation, Discovery and Development, and Newer Opportunities. Both of them had top experts from across domains, from industry to regulators, talking about current developments in their respective fields and shared their experiences with the delegates.

Some of the highlights of the scientific sessions were:
Dr. M Venkateswarlu Memorial Award Lecture on “Bioequivalence: Assuring Drug Product Quality and Therapeutic Interchangeability”, by Dr. Kamal Midha, Ex-President of FIP, wherein he shared his vast experience in the field of bioequivalence research with specific examples.

CEO’s Panel Discussion on the theme of the Convention which brought together opinions and viewpoints of distinguished personalities including Nandan Chandavarkar (FDC), Aditi Kare Panandikar (Indoco Remedies), and Dr. Shailesh Ayyangar (Sanofi Aventis) who shared views and debated on issues affecting both multinational and indigenous pharmaceutical business like mergers and collaborations, compulsory licensing and affordable healthcare.

MHRA Symposium in which 4 speakers from MHRA precisely delivered talks giving an overview of MHRA, licensing of medicines in EU, registration fees and regulatory requirements for export to the UK., MHRA Inspections in India, and how to do business in India, followed by an interactive session. MHRA Consultant, Dr. Ludka Fyles spoke about the changing business environment in the UK with an increased focus on over-the-counter products.

There was also a session devoted to the role of technology in packaging since serialization has become mandatory for the pharmaceutical business in recent times.

On the sidelines of the Convention, as a satellite activity, a Drug Regulators Workshop was also held at Vivanta by Taj. Ten Drugs Controllers from various Indian States along with Shri P. B. Prasad, Dy. Drugs Controller (I), CDSCO (SZ), MHRA Team, US FDA team, and the Drug Officers of FDA, Goa participated in the workshop. The workshop was aimed at interaction between the Indian Regulators and the overseas Regulators viz. the MHRA, U.K and US FDA on the theme of the IPA convention 2013.

Dr. H.G Koshia, Commissioner, Food and Drugs Control Administration, Gujarat, chaired the session and made the opening remarks on behalf of Indian Regulators. Shri Salim Veljee, Director, FDA, Goa and the chairman of the LOC of IPA Convention 2013 made the introductory remarks.

Thereafter, all the State Drugs Controllers expressed their views on the challenges faced by them as Drug Regulators in their respective State. The main challenge which was faced by most of the States was shortage of Technically Trained man power and the information/training regards the latest regulatory developments, globally.

Shri. Mahesh Zagade, IAS, Commissioner, FDA, Maharashtra State expressed that harmonization of drug laws in India already exists by way of Drugs & Cosmetic Act and Rules there under, and suggested that a Forum of Drugs Regulators can be formed and the issues related to uniform implementation of the Drugs & Cosmetics Act and Rules can be sorted out at this forum, and the states who are stronger in certain aspects of drugs control can share their expertise with the other states. The function was compared by Mrs. Jyoti Sardesai, Dy. Director, FDA, Goa.

An impressive Exhibition was also part of the Convention with stalls put up by leading suppliers including Associated Capsules, Shimadzu Analytics and Schott Kaisha Private Limited.

Both the scientific tracks were well attended and there was scope for a lot of networking. It was an immense opportunity for pharmaceutical professionals across the country to interact and update themselves with knowledge from distinguished people in the profession.
The Indian Pharmaceutical Association jointly with Industrial Pharmacy Division, Regulatory Affairs Division and Aptar Pharma organized two-day Symposium on the theme “Global Regulatory Trends” on 24 – 25, October 2013 at Hotel Novotel, Mumbai. This seminar was attended by more than 125 delegates from Quality Control, Research & Development, and Quality Assurance section of pharmaceutical industry. Dr. J.A.S. Giri, President IPA welcomed the esteemed speakers and the delegates and urged the delegates to engage and involve themselves into a purposeful discussion with the speakers, so that the key objectives of Symposium are fulfilled. The key note address was delivered by Dr. B. Suresh, Vice-Chancellor, J S S University, Mysore & President of Pharmacy Council of India and Chairman, Indian Pharmacopeia Commission, New Delhi. The eminent speakers for the seminar were Dr. Steven Nichols, Consultant to Pharma Industry Dr. Tim Noakes, Mexichem Fluor, Mr. Ameet Sule, Presspart, Mr. Paul Sullivan, DH Industries Ltd., Mr. Harry Peters, DFE Pharma, Dr. Kapileshwar Swain, Wockhardt, Mr. Mark Copley, Copley Scientific, Dr. Paul Kippax, Malvern Instruments Ltd., Mr. Henrik Krarup, Innova Systems, Mr. Tamal Mukherjee, Malvern Instruments Ltd., Mr. David Harris, Team Consulting, Dr. Amit Misra – CDRI, Dr. Julie Suman, Nextbreath. IPA Publications and Website

Indian Journal of Pharmaceutical Website

During the reporting period of April 2013-March 2014, all issues of Volume 75 were published as well as the issue 1 of the Volume 76. Volume 76 is being produced during the platinum jubilee year of IPA hence all issues of Volume 76 would carry the platinum Jubilee logo of IPA in addition to the IPA logo. For the year 2013, Dr. Rao V. S. V. Vadlamudi was the Editor while Dr. Krishna Iyer, Dr. Evans Coutinho and Dr. (Mrs.) M. S. Nagarsenker were the Assistant Editors.

The calendar year 2013 marked the platinum jubilee year of the journal during which all six issues of the Volume 75 were released there by restoring the periodicity of the journal. Several reputed scientists including many advisory board members assisted in the peer-review process during 2013. Out of a total of 1510 papers received for publication during 2013, 1444 papers reached a decision state and 90% of the papers received were rejected. The Vol. 75 published 73 Research papers, 39 Short communications and 3 Review articles. The JCR Impact factor for the year 2013 was 0.3 and according to SJR index, the SCImago Journal Rank indicator, IJPS is 0.32. These values remained lower than what the journal registered during 2011 and one possible reason for this dip in impact factors is that the number of total citable papers published have reduced compared to 2011, which might have resulted in a reduction in the number of citations thus leading to a lower impact factor. The popularity of the journal however has not reduced, which is amply indicated by the increased number of submissions received during 2013 as well as 27% of published papers were from abroad. Towards the end of 2013, the editorial assistants, Dr. Chandrasekhar Barhate and Ms. Radhika Mani, who have helped the journal to regain its periodicity have moved on to more attractive assignments and two new editorial assistants, Ms. Shyli Makula and Ms. Pallavi Suryawanshi joined in their place. Dr. Chandrasekhar Barhate however, continued to edit the journal as the Assistant editor from Jan 2014. The editor, the assistant editors, the Editorial Assistants, the Advisory Board, and the Indian Pharmaceutical Association express their deep sense of gratitude to all the authors and the referees for their valuable assistance in bringing out yet another volume of this journal.

Pharma Times

During the period under review, Volume 46 was completed and Volume 47 was commenced, Dr. Alka Mukne was the Editor. Mr. Harshil Renawala was appointed the Sr. Editorial Assistant for the year April 2013 – March 2014 and Janvi Sah, Kishori Kedia, Sean Saldanha, Seline Dantes, Vishal Rakshe, Nivedita Hegdekar, Tanvi Gandhi and Shrey Gohil were appointed as Editorial Assistants.

A total of 48 articles and 9 book reviews were published in Pharma Times.

During the period, Pharma Times had special issues focused on Pharmacoeconomics & Outcomes Research Special, Project Management Special, Herbal Drug Products Special, Machinery & Equipment Special, EHS in Pharma Industry Special and Medical Devices Special in May 13, July 13, September 13, November 13, January 14 and March 14 respectively. Several features including ‘Pharma Wits & Leisure’ were included in this period. The editorial team of Pharma Times is grateful to all members and other pharmaceutical professionals for their continued support in sending articles for publication in Pharma Times. Many experts assisted the team as Reviewers for the books received for Review. The Editor acknowledges the contribution made by the reviewers. The Editor would also like to place on record their great appreciation to the valued advertisers for their patronage, without which it would not have been possible to publish Pharma Times. Pharma Times is being indexed by Scopus & Embase.

IPA Website
During the said period, the IPA Website, www.ipapharma.org was managed by the Website Coordinator Dr. Alka Mukne. Apart from the routine Association news & happenings, the website also included the following features: Members could update & edit their profiles online after ‘login’.

- Payment gateway to receive online payments for memberships & registrations for conferences, seminars etc.
- Mass e-mailing facility to mail announcements, program brochures etc. to members.

Appreciation

The Indian Pharmaceutical Association profusely thank all its well wishers, sponsors and supporters from industry, academia, regulatory and community disciplines in successfully organizing the activities and fulfilling the objectives of the trust during the year. The association extends its gratitude to the Office bearers and the Council members who were active and instrumental in value addition and furthering of the mission of the association. The Association also appreciates the active participation of all its members in various programs during the year. The Association also wishes to thank M/s Maitra & Chopra, Chartered Accountants for maintaining the accounts of the Association. The Association also thanks the staff members for their contribution in accomplishing the secretarial duties, activities and responsibilities.
